

24th Asia-Pacific Software Engineering Conference

December 4-8 Nanjing, China

APSEC 2017

Organization

General Chair:

Jian Lv
Nanjing University, China

Program Co-Chairs:

He (Jason) Zhang
Nanjing University, China
Mike Hinchey
Lero, Ireland

Organizing Chair:

Xuandong Li
Nanjing University, China

Publicity Chair:

Qianxiang Wang
Huawei, China

Industry Track Co-Chairs

Evelyn Tian
Evelyn Konsult AB, Sweden
Len Bass
Carnegie Mellon University, USA

Short Papers and Posters Co-Chairs

Ewan Tempero
University of Auckland, New Zealand
Jacky Keung
City University of Hong Kong, China

Workshops and Tutorials Co-Chairs

Bixin Li
Southeast University, China
Ingo Weber
Data61/CSIRO, Australia

Doctoral Symposium Co-Chairs

Muhammad Ali Babar
University of Adelaide, Australia
Peng Liang
Wuhan University, China

Supported by:

Geekbang
极客邦科技

Call for Participations

Established in 1993, the Asia-Pacific Software Engineering Conference (APSEC) is a leading international forum on full-Spectrum software engineering and technology, particularly in the Asia-Pacific region. APSEC 2017 aims to bring together software engineering profession including researchers, practitioners, and educators to describe important new research results and report valuable project experiences, and also to foster wider communications and collaborations among academia, industry, and government.

Keynote Speakers

Len Bass

Karin Breitman

Ian Gorton

Ross Jeffery

Yi Wang

Program Overview

APSEC 2017 is the main event of the Asia-Pacific Software Engineering Week (APSEW 2017) with co-located Internet Architecture Summit (on December 2-3). APSEC 2017 features:

- keynotes, regular papers, industry papers, and short papers
- 5 keynote speeches
- 5 co-located workshops
- 30+ sessions (main conference only)
- 100+ presentations (main conference only)
- feature talks & invited papers from ICSE'17
- doctoral symposium

... ..

Details on the overall program of APSEC 2017 together with important information on the venue and the registration are available on the official website <http://apsec2017.org/>

apsec2017.org

